Product Overview

Add versatility to your cradle with the 5-Port Expansion Hub. It provides a complete set of connections to extend the use of the device to desktops, displays, and more.

With support for 4K video on the HDMI port, you can extend display from the device to any external display. The RJ45 Ethernet connection allows direct connection to local networks, internet access and industrial machines.

With three USB-A ports, you can add barcode readers, keyboards, RFID readers and more to your setup, enhancing your device's functionality. The hub also features USB-C Power Delivery (PD) pass-through, supporting up to 100W of Power for peripherals and tablets, ensuring uninterrupted power.

The hub also features cable retention, preventing cables from coming unplugged during operation.

Attaching it is a breeze - specifically crafted to easily integrate with existing ModTek Docks and ProClip USB-C Charging Cradles using the included fastener pack, no tools needed.
